PROGRESS REPORT:

The symposium, held in China, was well attended by Trichogramma workers from throughout the world. It was an excellent opportunity to make contact with other workers in this field. Our representative was Dr P.H. Twine.

Some 50 papers on a wide range of topics from taxonomy, mass production and practical application of this form of biological control were presented and stimulated a good cross section of debate.

Attendance at this symposium has helped confirm the current status of research in egg parasites in Australia and has helped in the formulation of the future direction of this work.
